Rate Of Sales Tax Proposal Reduced To One Per Cent

Life Of Levy Limited To Two Years

Harrisburg (AP)—The Republican-controlled House last night reduced the rate of its stalled sales tax to 1 per cent in a new move to line up enough votes to pass it.

In another compromise gesture, the life of the levy was fixed at two years, leaving to the 1955 Legislature the question of continuing it, should the tax be finally passed at this session.

But there was no certainty the disputed tax bill would be called up for a vote today in its latest revised form. It has been in position for a vote for a month and has come to the point of a roll call several times—but without action.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, voiced confidence again the bill would pass but said the GOP majority would "count hands" at a closed session today before the House formal meeting.

The Republican leadership cut the rate from 2 per cent and held out the promise of dropping 47 million dollars in temporary taxes in a new compromise move to win over opponents of the levy in their own party.

However, five representatives, enough to prevent passage of a sales tax, renewed their opposition to it after the new changes were made. They are Reps. Clair H. Peiffer (Northampton); John S. Shotwell (Monroe); Francis Worley (Adams); August Metz Jr. (Pike); and Joseph A. Ide (Northampton).

In addition, Rep. Ivan C. Watkins (R-Schuylkill) suffered a heart attack last night, and the GOP will lack his vote should the tax measure be called up today.

The Senate, after 2½ hours of hectic debate, advanced for a vote today a whittled-down House-approved bill calling a referendum at the November election on the question of whether the voters want the state's Constitution revised.

The administration bill, as passed by the House, set up machinery for calling a constitutional convention and at the same time submitted the question of revision to a statewide referendum.

The bill was re-written in Senate committee to strike out all reference to the proposed convention. Democrats, on the floor, sought unsuccessfully to restore the measure to its original form. They were voted down along party lines, 29-14.

The Senate put off a vote until possibly today on a Chesterman Committee bill to create a Public Works Administration by merger of the State Highways Department, the State Planning Board and the State Aeronautics Board.

Higher Fee For Fishing Proposed

Harrisburg (AP)—A license to fish in Pennsylvania would cost $2.50 instead of the present $2 under a bill introduced in the House last night.

The measure, sponsored by Reps. Reginald P. Stimmel (R-Lehigh) and George C. Shoemaker (R-Schuylkill) also would halt the free issuance of fishing permits to persons in the armed forces of the United States.

The $2.50 fee does not include a 10 cent payment now provided for the agent issuing the license. Fishing licenses are sold for the calendar year in Pennsylvania.

The State Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs has recommended the higher license fee.

Sessions In June Ruled Out For General Assembly

Harrisburg (AP)—Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said last night the General Assembly will have to recess for the entire month of June because of a lack of hotel rooms in Harrisburg.

"That means that if we aren't cleaned up here by Memorial Day we will have to stay home for four weeks before getting under way," Johnson said. "The hotels, figuring we'd be out of here by that time, gave our usual rooms to a number of conventions being held here that

11 Men Killed Aboard Carrier

Guantanamo, Cuba (AP)—The U. S. Navy base at Guantanamo reported last night that 11 men were killed and four others injured in an "engineering casualty" aboard a U. S. aircraft carrier.

The carrier was operating off Guantanamo Bay at the time the accident happened.

The names of the casualties have been withheld until next of kin have been notified.

The carrier was identified as the Bennington. She is an Essex class carrier, built Feb. 26, 1944. She has a displacement of 27,000 tons and carries a normal complement of 2,290 men.

The Navy in Washington said the carrier had suffered a boiler accident. It added that the full extent of the damage had not been ascertained.

The carrier is now docked at Guantanamo, the Navy added.

Government To Concentrate Arms Production In Fewer Plants, Says Defense Aid

Washington (AP)—Deputy Secretary of Defense Roger M. Kyes yesterday accused the old Truman administration of setting up "fantastic paper targets" in its defense planning, including one plan that would have cost $30 billion dollars "for hard goods alone."

"Hard goods" is the military term for planes, tanks, guns and other weapons.

Addressing 2,500 American business leaders at the 41st annual convention of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Kyes said in a major policy statement that the Eisenhower administration will review the nation's entire mobilization setup to weed out waste and scrap "unrealistic" planning.

The new administration's goal he said, will be to slash expenditures by eliminating high-cost arms plants and at the same time keep America strong in peace or war.

Kyes' statement took on significance from the fact that U. S. businessmen are carefully scanning administration utterances bearing on any sudden or big-scale cuts in the multimillion dollar defense program.

Kyes had sharp words for both the military and civilian attitudes in coping with defense needs in the fluctuating phases between peace and war.

A basic problem in defense production, he said, is that civilians "cut the military to the bone in time of peace," and the military always demands more than it needs in time of war.

Calling for restraint by both, Kyes declared: "If we insist that the military abandon their present attitude as claimants for absolute requirements without responsibility for economic consequences, we should also insist that the civilian attitude of irresponsibility between war and peace be abandoned."

Lady Legislator Denies She Was Caught Snoring

London (AP)—Laborite Parliament Member Mrs. E. M. (Battling Bessie) Braddock heatedly denied yesterday she ever was caught snoring on a bed in the House of Commons' ladies room.

Striding indignantly up to House Speaker William S. Morrison, Braddock handed him a copy of a London Sunday newspaper containing an article written by another woman M. P., slim, photogenic Mrs. Patricia Ford, a Conservative, who took her Commons seat only last week.

U. S. To Pay Red Pilot $100,000 For Soviet Jet

Tokyo (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark last night offered $50,000 reward to every Communist flier who delivers a Russian-built jet to the Allies, and promised an extra bonus of $50,000 to the first Red airman to fly to freedom.

The move—unprecedented in the Korean War—was aimed at disrupting the combat efficiency of the Communist Air Force.

The U. S. Far East commander in chief guaranteed the safety of each refugee pilot, and asylum in a country without Communist domination.

Clark's appeal was broadcast in Russian, Chinese and Korean languages by Army radio and dropped in leaflets by Allied planes over North Korea.

The leaflets carried a picture of Franciszek Jaworski, a Polish flier who flew a Communist MIG15 to Denmark and was given political asylum last month.

In Washington, the Justice Department announced that Jaworski, who has been in Munich broadcasting to Polish youth over Radio Free Europe, will arrive in New York Wednesday.

He is scheduled to be received as a guest of honor in a number of American cities, including Buffalo and Detroit.

The department said Jaworski, who has offered to go to Korea to fight against the Communists if accepted in the U. S. Air Force,

New Security Program Set Up By Eisenhower

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower set up yesterday a tight new security program intended to make sure that the millions of federal employees have "complete and unswerving loyalty to the United States."

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) called it "a pretty darn good program."

The new plan goes into operation May 27. It provides for a security test of some kind for every one appointed to a government job, from snow shoveler to atomic energy technician. The strictness of the investigation will vary according to the nature of the job.

Anybody seeking a "sensitive position" one in which he could bring about "a material adverse effect on the national security"—will have to come through a full-scale investigation under rigid, sweeping standards laid down by the President in an executive order.

Persons now holding sensitive jobs will be re-checked in the light of these standards.

The presidential order stresses "the American tradition that all persons should receive fair, impartial and equitable treatment."

These, the Eisenhower order said, are some of the guidelines to be followed in security investigations:

One—Anything indicating an individual is unreliable or untrustworthy.

Two—Deliberate misrepresentation, lies or omission of material facts.

Three—Criminal, infamous or disgraceful conduct, including sexual perversion and addiction to liquor or drugs.

Four—Signs of insanity.

Five—Any fact indicating a person might be persuaded to act against the best interests of national security.

Six—Any connections with sabotage, espionage, treason or sedition.

Seven—Sympathetic association with individuals or organizations interested in overthrowing the U. S. government by violence or unconstitutional means.

Eight—Unauthoritative disclosure of security information.

Nine—Serving interests of another government in preference to those of the U. S.

Dulles Reports New Gains In NATO Defense

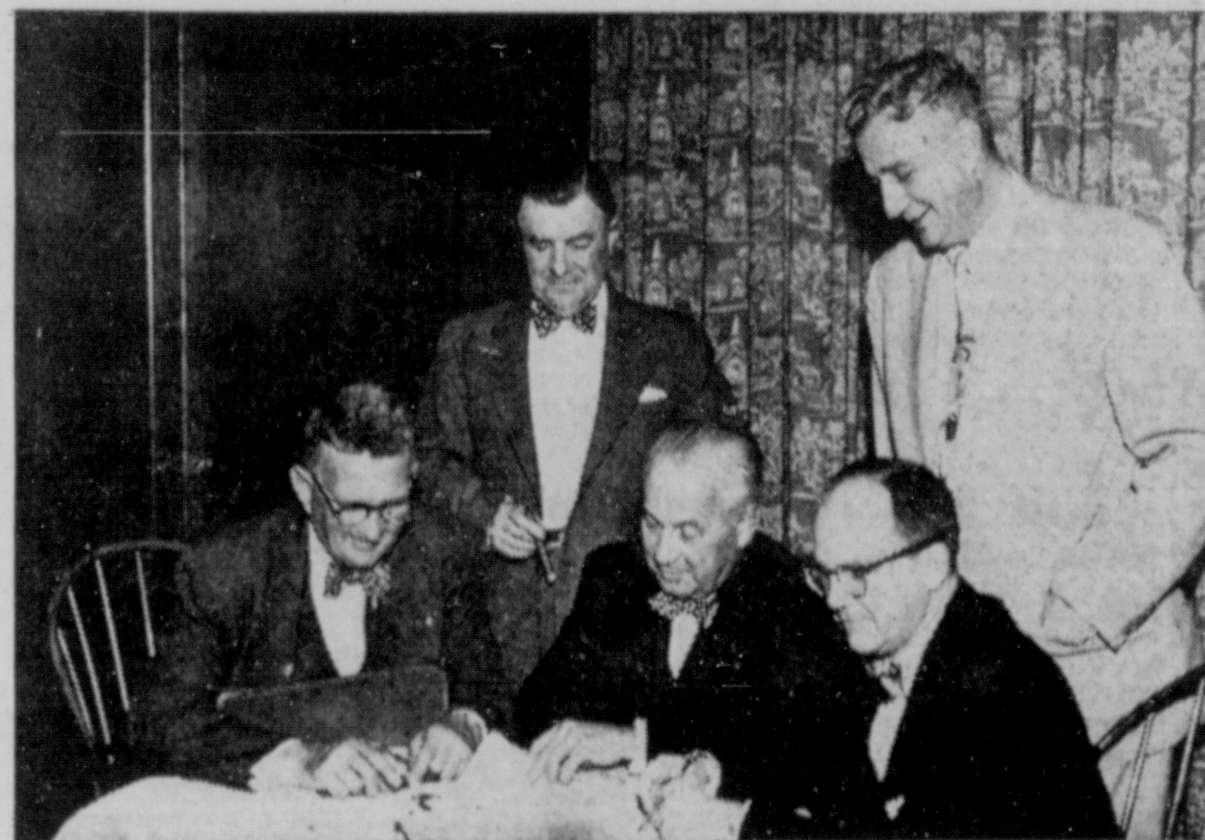

Washington (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles returned from a Paris conference yesterday to give President Eisenhower a report of new gains in the defense preparations of Western Powers.

But following him across the Atlantic came news of another setback in Germany for the European Army Treaty, which the United States considers essential to the Western defense system.

Dulles and other Cabinet leaders face the task of justifying to Congress a proposed new round of foreign aid appropriations. Dulles himself has regarded progress on the European Army pact as a measure of Europe's qualification for continued defense aid.

State Hopes To Have Fifth Street Bridge Project Under Contract Late This Year

State Highway Department hopes to have the Fifth Street Bridge job in Stroudsburg under contract late this year.

That was the report to Pocono Mountains Motor Club members at the session last night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, Stroudsburg.

Chief Engineer Charles H. Buckius, of the highway department, said the State is at present "negotiating with the borough of Stroudsburg over financing the bridge replacement project."

He said State men hoped the financing would work out with an agreement for partial payment by the borough "perhaps assisted by the county."

District Engineer R. E. Boyer, Allentown, appeared before Stroudsburg borough council April 8 and said the State "wanted" to start construction on the bridge in June, or not later than July.

Buckius' chief points in his talk to the Motor Club were: lack of money for construction of highways in Pennsylvania; increased costs of construction; inability to forecast when there would be any major construction projects as yet announced.

"I can't tell you what will be done next year," he said. "We don't know yet how much money we're going to get."

He added, "You can have just as many miles of roads as you are willing to furnish the money to build them."

Buckius said nearly all the AAA and motor club projects which are recommended throughout the State are worthy ones. The difficulty is that there are always four times as many projects recommended and needed as there is money for construction, he went on.

"We'd like to say, yes—we'll build that by-pass . . . west of Stroudsburg . . . somewhere over there from Delaware Water Gap . . . but we can't say that. There's no money for building."

Buckius said he'd never "kidded anybody about roads."

District Superintendent Boyer had been directed to study the situation to see if an adequate highway could be made to eliminate the bottleneck, Buckius said, adding:

"But I can't say when the physical work will start. I wish I could."

After the meeting closed, Buckius said he was only speaking rhetorically when he said "west of Stroudsburg," in referring to a by-pass to route traffic from the Delaware River bridges through the center of it.

He said that no new survey or study had been ordered so far as the traffic load was concerned. The study which must be made now deals with grading, leveling, surfaces, borings, and other engineering details of construction, with a view to determining the best physical location for a by-pass, he said.

But the chief engineer had a suggestion or recommendation on the seasonal summer bottleneck:

He pointed down Main St. and said, "There—take those parked cars off Main St. You'll get two extra lanes. Instead of a two lane road you'll have a four or five lane road."

"That's what Allentown has done. That's what Philadelphia has done. It's successful. It works. Of course you'd lose a little revenue (from parking meter receipts on Main St.) but if the congestion is so bad, that would certainly relieve it."

"That would be the best temporary expedient, until such time as a by-pass could be built."

Buckius said flatly he had no idea where or when such a by-pass would be built.

Boyer, in going over highway department work in the county, said the bridge at Willowdell would be replaced not later than July. The bridge was slated for replacement last winter, but workers ran into difficulties with the terrain.

Court Disbars Hiss, Refuses Plea For Aid

Washington (AP)—Convicted perjuror Alger Hiss lost twice yesterday in the Supreme Court.

In a 6 to 0 decision the court disbarred the former State Department official from further law practice in the high court and also refused to aid him in his efforts to win a new trial.

Action in the disbarment proceedings, started in January, 1952, had been held up pending outcome of Hiss' appeal for a new trial.

Hiss was convicted in January, 1950 of lying to a New York grand jury when he said he had not given government secrets to Whittaker Chambers, self-described courier for a pre-World War II Russian spy ring. Hiss is serving a five-year sentence in the federal prison at Lewisburg, Pa.

His petition for a parole was denied last November.

Constructive Offer Sought From Reds

Panmunjom, Tuesday (AP)—The Allies today threatened to suspend once again the newly-revived Korean armistice talks unless the Communists produce a constructive proposal on the crucial prisoner exchange issue.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., senior United Nations Command delegate, opened today's 39-minute session by asking the Red delegates whether they were ready to nominate a neutral nation to supervise the war prisoners who don't want to go home.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, senior Communist delegate, noted Harrison's question and suggested a recess until 11 a.m. tomorrow (9 p.m., EST, Tuesday). The Allied delegates agreed.

Harrison told the Reds bluntly in the third day's session of the renewed talks:

"We do not intend to become involved in protracted and useless arguments." The U. N. broke off the talks last Oct. 8 for that reason.

The senior Allied delegate said after the meeting the Reds had nothing new to offer.

"They brought out the point of settling things by consultation," he said. But he observed that the Communists' apparent refusal to nominate a neutral "doesn't indicate much in the way of consultation."

Harrison told the Communists for the third time in as many days that the Allies could not accept their proposal to send to a neutral nation those prisoners refusing to go home.

"From your experience in previous negotiations with us, you should be well aware that we mean what we say," he told the Reds firmly.

The Allies twice—on Sunday and Monday—rejected a Communist proposal to send to a neutral nation (not named by the Reds) all prisoners refusing repatriation after an armistice in Korea.

There, the Communists added, representatives of Red China and North Korea could "explain" matters to the prisoners. Harrison said yesterday it would be an indirect way of eventually forcing Communist prisoners to return home.

Russia 'Ready' To Talk Peace

Moscow, Tuesday (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov told the Soviet-supported Peace Partisans that Russia favors their appeal for a five-power peace pact, Soviet newspapers said today.

The newspapers published an answer by the Russian government, signed by Molotov, to the "Congress of the Peoples in Defense of Peace." Molotov's answer was sent to a committee of the congress in Paris yesterday.

The congress had appealed to the governments of Russia, the U. S., Chinese Peoples Republic (Red China), Britain, and France to begin talks to conclude a peace pact among the five big powers, the Moscow papers said.

In his answer, Molotov declared the Russian government's "constant readiness to co-operate with the governments of other powers for the attainment of the high purposes of strengthening of universal peace and international security."

The congress includes such outstanding leftists as Frederic Joliot-Curie, French atomic physicist; Pietro Nenni, Italian socialist; and Ilya Ehrenburg, Russian writer.

House Group Votes To Admit Ohio Into Union

Washington (AP)—A House interior subcommittee listened to all the facts yesterday, and then unanimously voted to permit Ohio to come into the Union.

A nice gesture, even if it was 150 years and 27 days late.

People have so fallen into the habit of thinking Ohio was already in the Union that they have elected seven U. S. Presidents from that territory.

But some historians started poking into records and they found that somehow, Congress never got around to accepting Ohio officially.

Rep. Bender (R-Ohio) gallantly hurried to the rescue. He introduced a resolution to bring Ohio into the Union, retroactive to March 1, 1803.

Four Houses Changes Hands In County

Mr. and Mrs. William Bennekomer Sr., River Edge, N. J., have sold a Smithfield Township residence, according to deeds recorded yesterday at the Court House.

Grantees were listed as Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Tonkay, that township. The place is on the East Stroudsburg-Marshalls Creek road.

Another residence was transferred by Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, Chestnut Hill Township, to Mr. and Mrs. William F. Kresge, Selota.

The land adjoins property of James Drone, on the road to Broadheadville; also adjoining are lands of Switzgabel Brothers, and Howard Rodenbach. The tract was conveyed to Mr. and Mrs. Smith in 1950 by Ambrose Greenamoyer.

Bought by Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Sperl, Wilmington, Del., from Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hunter, New York City, was a Jackson Township residence of about 27 acres adjoining the State Game Lands on the Appenzell-Neola road.

A dwelling along Pocono Creek in Stroudsburg has been transferred by Howard M. Abelloff, East Stroudsburg, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Romanosky, Selota. The property adjoins land of Emil Hinton and Phillip S. Dreher.

Other deeds recorded: Mr. and Mrs. Floyd R. Borger, Stroudsburg, to Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Knipe, Stroudsburg, a lot on N. Fifth St., that borough, at the Oak St. intersection.

Lizzie Nace, East Stroudsburg, to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Bonser, that borough, an East Stroudsburg lot adjoining land of Michael Kistler.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Serfass, Barrett Township, to the following grantees: Mr. and Mrs. Marcus O. Schaefer, Wind Gap, a lot in Stroud Township on Dogwood Rd.; Hannah K. Shupp, Pocono Township; and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Smallacombe, Stroudsburg, lots on Dogwood Rd., Stroud Township.

Mrs. Adan Bohner

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilmoth were in Wilmington, Delaware, recently attending the wedding of Miss Eileen Conway and Evan Hensley. After the reception the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Hensley, of Chagrin Falls, Ohio spent the weekend in Kunkletown with Mr. and Mrs. Wilmoth, returning to Ohio on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Meyers and daughter, Carol, of Mountaintop, and Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Moore, of Nazareth, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Drum-beller.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smale called on Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Smale at Danielsville Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Christman have a new car.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Smith, of Trachsville, spent some time with Mrs. Tillie Borger.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Klotz and family, of Northampton, visited Mr. and Mrs. Alvin H. Gower recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron MacBeth and Mrs. Allen Smith, of Bethlehem, were recent supper guests of Mrs. Elsie Derhammer.

Mrs. Wilbur Gougher is reported much improved and is home from St. Luke's Hospital.

The Carbon County Ministerium met at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Adan Bohner on Monday night.

Rev. and Mrs. William Longsdorf, of Palmerton, Rev. and Mrs. Albert Peters, of Lansford, Rev. and Mrs. Ray Klingaman, of Cherryville, Rev. and Mrs. R. Edwin Kutz, of Bowmanstown and Rev. and Mrs. Alton Albright, of Gilbert, attended.

East Pennsylvania Synod will meet Tuesday night, April 28 and Wednesday, April 29 at the Friedens Church, Friedensville.

256 Pints Of Blood Pledged For Unit's Visit Tomorrow

An encouraging report that 256 pints of blood have already been pledged for the 300 needed to fill the quota tomorrow when the Red Cross bloodmobile unit visits East Stroudsburg Methodist Church was announced last night.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton, pastor of the host church in the drive which begins at 10 a. m. and continues until 4 p. m., indicated all reports are not in but expressed confidence in the pledges already submitted.

It also was indicated that wait-ins may augment the total and others with pledge cards will increase the total donors.

A number of reports still out include those of several ministers, industrial plants and individual workers who are endeavoring to top the goal, completing the quota for this period.

Emphasis on tomorrow's campaign is placed on the dire need for blood with the pending polio season about to open. Gamma globulin, the new weapon against infantile paralysis, is a derivative of blood.

The Red Cross has been called upon to expand its defense collections by the Office of Defense Mobilization.

In addition to providing gamma

Knob Residents To Receive Tax Bills From Paradise School District, Mt. Pocono Borough

A handful of Mount Pocono people will pay taxes in two different tax districts this year.

The doubtful distinction goes to landowners in the Knob area who—tax-wise—are neither fish nor fowl.

The Knob area is a piece of land which used to be part of Paradise Township. Its residents petitioned to become part of Mount Pocono Borough.

After proper legalities, this was done. The Knob became part of Mount Pocono Borough—at least partially.

There are two "divisions" to annexation, Knob residents quickly learned. Township superviors or borough councils have jurisdiction over one kind of annexation. School district directors have jurisdiction over the other.

In the case of the Knob, councilmen and supervisors involved were in agreement so the annexation went smoothly in that "division."

But school directors in the two districts disagreed sharply. Chief reason: the Knob area is worth about $900 cash a year in school taxes.

Mount Pocono school directors were eager to get this additional revenue by annexing the Knob. Paradise directors were just as reluctant to lose this income. Directors in both districts say they're hard pressed for funds to support their schools.

That was why Paradise and Mount Pocono directors filed briefs with the County Board of Education and with Harrisburg. The county board last week sided with Paradise. Their decision—against school district annexation—will be "studied by Harrisburg officials" but is likely to stand.

"We've done all we can," summed up one Mount Pocono School Board official. "There's nothing more to do."

There are no children living in the Knob, so the argument at present has nothing to do with advantages or disadvantages of children attending one or the other school.

If the county board's ruling stands—Knob residents will pay taxes to two districts. They'll send their per capita school tax and school millage to Paradise. Street and related borough taxes will be paid to Mount Pocono Borough.

METROPOLITAN EDISON COMPANY

Stroudsburg Council Buys 259 Automatic Parking Meters

Meter District Extended To Sarah, Eighth

Stroudsburg Council purchased 259 parking meters last night from the Magee-Hale Park-O-Meter Co., of Oklahoma City, Okla., and expanded their parking meter territory again.

Meters will cost $65.50 each. They will be paid for at the rate of $2 per month out of meter revenue with the balance of the monthly revenue going to the borough.

An effort will be made to have meters delivered sooner than the 30 day limit given by the company and installed more promptly.

After deciding on the Park-O-Meter, council decided to extend automatics to Ninth St. on Main St. Original plan had called for automatics from Fifth to Eighth St.

Council also decided to add another block on Sarah St.—from Seventh to Eighth. Previous plan covered two blocks from Fifth to Seventh.

Other part of the original plans remain the same: Monroe St. from Sixth to Eighth, east side of N. Eighth from Main to Monroe; west side of N. Seventh, Monroe to Sarah and east side of Sixth St., Monroe to Sarah.

Meters removed from Main St. to make way for the automatics will be used on new metered areas off Main St.

New Pupils To Register

To be eligible, a child must be six years old before Feb. 1, 1954.

AFL Directors Fought Union At Allentown

New York (AP) — An American Federation of Labor official, who purportedly fought unionism in Pennsylvania while collecting union pay in New York, yesterday was slapped with a state income tax evasion charge.

John Dioguardi, 39, regional director of the AFL United Automobile Workers, was accused by a grand jury of failing to file or pay taxes on $107,700 income in 1950 and $9,400 in 1951, a misdemeanor.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said Dioguardi, of Forest Hills, Queens, in 1950 was president of Rose Mary Fashions, a garment concern here, with its factory in Allentown, Pa.

While Dioguardi was active in union affairs here, he was equally active as an anti-unionist in Allentown, Hogan said. Hogan said Dioguardi received $11,000 "to use his influence to prevent unionization" of the Allentown plant. Hogan did not name the source of the money.

Exchange Club Entertains 16 Honor Grads At Banquet

Sixteen students of county schools were honored last night at the Exchange Club's annual "honor graduate night."

The banquet was at East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, with President W. Adolph Rake officiating.

The students honored were those receiving the highest and next highest grades during their high school training.

A special "Boy of the Year" award was made to John Eaton, son of Rev. and Mrs. Harold C. Eaton. Rev. Eaton is pastor of East Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

The award to Eaton was in recognition of his "outstanding scholastic achievements (valedictorian at East Stroudsburg High School), community activities (chairman of the Youth Center and of numerous other school and community youth organizations), and services to the Exchange Club."

Present for the ceremonies were: District Governor Harold Kreger, who congratulated the students on behalf of the national Exchange Club; and past district governor Oakley Snyder, both of Easton. Guests included the past and present board of directors of the Youth Center.

The honor graduate students honored were:

Barrett: Nancy Bender and Imogene DePue; Chestnuthill, Norma Bond and Amanda Weiss; Coolbaugh, Mary Lou Lynch and Janet

Freach; Pocono, Sarah Metz and Dorothy Nuss; Polk, Elois Eckley and Shirley Serfass; Stroudsburg, James Ifft and Ray Ciffer; Tobyhanna, Priscilla Argot and Annette DeSanto; East Stroudsburg, John Eaton and Norma Ace.

They were introduced by the principals of the school represented.

Each student received a certificate of achievement from the Exchange Club.

Educational methods of the past and present were contrasted by Dr. Robert Brown, Stroudsburg, former superintendent of Stroudsburg schools.

Bicycle Found At College Field

A bicycle has been recovered from where it was abandoned at the Brown St. entrance to East Stroudsburg State Teachers College football field, East Stroudsburg police said yesterday.

The bike was first spotted by a 12-year-old girl. She told police she had seen it lying at the field for several days.

The wheel is a Ward's Harthorne girl's bike. The color is medium blue, police said, but the machine may have been repainted. The owner may recover it at the East Stroudsburg police station.

Getz Charged With Violating Firearms Act

A charge of violating the firearms act was filed yesterday against Robert Getz, Allentown, one of the drivers involved in a serious accident at Tobyhanna last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa English, Gouldsboro, occupants in one car, were injured critically in the head-on crash on Route 611. At Hahnemann Hospital in Scranton last night their conditions were reported as "unchanged."

Getz and two friends riding with him were also injured. Only Russell Gaffney, also of Allentown, still remains at the hospital as one of the victims in the Getz car.

Gaffney's condition was reported "fairly good," an improvement over earlier reports.

State police of the Mount Pocono barracks yesterday filed the charge on Getz before Justice of the Peace William N. Walton, Stroudsburg. Getz pleaded guilty, was freed on $300 bond for further court action.

Police said they found a pistol in Getz' car after the crash, and that Getz had no license to carry one.

Four Couples Apply To Wed

Four couples had applied for marriage licenses yesterday at the Court House.

They were Robert W. Singer, East Stroudsburg, and Alice Slutter, Stroudsburg RD3; Garth A. Fisher, Portland, and Lillian J. Stettler, East Stroudsburg RD3; Austin H. Kirksey, Cleveland, O., and Elsie F. Nuss, Stroudsburg Star Route; Michael S. Dudich, Elkins Park, and Ruth E. Bradley, Philadelphia.

Authorities To Return Suspect Here

Police Wednesday will bring a prisoner from Trenton, N. J., to Monroe County for questioning in connection with a worthless check for several hundred dollars passed more than a year ago.

He is Charles Eugene Martz, who has been in the penitentiary in New Jersey for the past year. Monroe County authorities lodged a detainer against Martz while he was imprisoned.

Police will investigate Martz in connection with a charge that he passed the bad check on a Monroe County used car dealer.

Martz will be brought back by Pfc. Alex G. Kearns of the Stroudsburg State police station and Sheriff Jacob Altomose.

New Oil Pipeline To Be Put In Use

New York (AP) — A new 16-inch pipe line for petroleum products will be put into operation within the next few days, the Buckeye Pipe Line Co. said yesterday.

The line will extend from Linden, N. J., to Allentown, Pa., and is the first section of a system that will be extended through Scranton, Pa., to Binghamton, Auburn, Syracuse and Caledonia, N. Y.

The company said the system is a reversible pipeline and will soon be used to carry products from refineries in the Linden area. It will eventually connect with a line being built by Harbor Pipeline Co. from refineries at Marcus Hook, Pa., outside Philadelphia.

'Body' Seen In River

State police in Milford and New Jersey checked the Delaware River banks yesterday after receiving reports from Port Jervis city police that a "body" had been seen floating down the river.

There was no confirmation last night. No one along the river had reported seeing a body after the first report was radioed back by an Erie Railroad crew which thought it saw the "body" while crossing the Neversink River bridge near Port Jervis about 4:07 p.m.

Railroad officials notified city police, who in turn asked for State police help. It was assumed that the "body" if there was one — would float on down to the Delaware River if it didn't get snagged in the Neversink River.

Port Jervis police said last night a patrolman had checked the river just after getting the report. He had seen a barrel floating slowly along below the bridge.

Milford police reported finding nothing but the body of a dead deer which was seen floating past the Milford Bridge toward dusk.

Israel After Five Years

(From The St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

The story of Israel, now five years old, is one of the most heartening pages in a murky section of world history. Quite aside from the spiritual and psychological satisfactions of the establishment of a new state in an ancient land, there are the most impressive practical accomplishments.

Israel has been recognized by 58 governments and has become the fifty-ninth member of the United Nations.

A population which stood at 650,000 in May of 1948 has grown to 1,450,000.

Refugees from many parts of the world, these people have established an orderly, democratic government.

They have built schools enough to institute universal compulsory education. To house themselves, they have built more than 220,000 rooms in these five years.

They have built new factories and they have carried agriculture into the desert. Above all, they have displayed the rugged pioneering spirit.

These accomplishments were not easy. First of all, the Israeli had to fight off the six neighboring Arab nations.

Not peace, but only a truce has been gained in this war. The Arabs are still trying to blockade Israel.

After the fighting ended, austerity continued in Israel. The new country's economic problems are by no means all settled. Much help from abroad is still needed. And yet the prospect is hopeful.

It has been confidently outlined by Israel's Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion:

"We shall continue to develop the natural resources of our country, pioneer our waste lands and press forward our industrial progress. We shall strengthen and consolidate our democratic regime built on the firm foundations of human freedom. And we shall stand together with all our might with peace-loving and freedom-loving nations of the world."

Increased Truck Weights

Once again the controversial matter of increased truck weights for Pennsylvania highways is to come before the General Assembly, in the form of a bill similar to that passed by the 1951 Legislature but vetoed by Gov. Fine.

This year the Joint State Government Commission has given its blessing to the measure, and its engineers have approved the suggestions of increased weights for the he-moths of the road, with the suggestion that truck license fees be increased at the same time.

It is interesting to note that in studying the problem, the Joint State Government Commission did not consult Secretary of Highways Schmidt, who has long maintained that higher weights will result in more damage to the state's highway system.

No one can say, with any honesty, that the trucking industry is not an important asset to the nation's economy, including that of our commonwealth, or that Pennsylvania would be the great industrial and business center it has become without the network of truck lines.

In any case, Pennsylvania taxpayers should have all facts presented to them relative to the economic consequences of the proposed bill.

Letter For Special Delivery

Postmaster General

Arthur Summerfield,

Wash., D. C.

Dear Sir:

I see where you have sworn to get the American postal system back to something like an efficient, co-operative, alert friend of the people. You seem to think that the purpose of the Post-Office

Department is to collect and deliver the mail properly. You apparently hold that correspondence can be encouraged. You even think the mailman should ring twice. These are pretty radical views after what has been going on in the Post-Office Department for the last decade.

The post office in every village and city used to have a warm place in the hearts of the people. There was something friendly, helpful and neighborly about it. It became a cold, bureaucratic, fumbling center of indifference of late years. The outstanding example of the "So what" mood was an order which forbade any further records which would make it possible to trace a lost SPECIAL DELIVERY letter. Although a special delivery stamp costs 20 cents, the highest in post office

history, and is supposed to mean special handling, the lifelong rule that a carrier must get a receipt from the person accepting it was ABOLISHED!!!

The rule still stands, Arthur, and if you are leveling you will kill it and restore the requirement that a special-delivery letter be signed for. The excuse that it takes too much from the postoffice workers and mailmen is a laugh. They stood it for a century without anguish.

The theme song of people using special delivery stamps has been:

Put a "special" on your letter.

Twenty cents will be the cost;

It will slow it up completely—

If it doesn't get it LOST!

Restore that old slogan, Arthur, which reads "Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stops these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds." And throw in the words

"nor postmaster general" between the snow, rain and heat, will you please? It is good for people to write letters. It helps romance and business, alleviates loneliness and is a big aid to morale. No harm can come from a good postal service, no matter what the Democrats thought.

Cheer up.

ELMER.

Harold Riegelman, New York

attorney and civic leader, has been chosen as the next postmaster of New York, but it is announced he will accept on condition he be allowed to continue his law practice. . . . Well, in our book, running the Gotham mails is no part-time job. . . . It will take all of any man's time to get the service back to normal, let alone improving it from that point on. . . . Mr. Riegelman will really be the top mailman of the world's largest city and New Yorkers will make with a loud

Bronx cheer if they get a letter

four days late and he comes up with the excuse, "Sorry, but I was busy in court!" . . . Ima Dodo calls that new movie "Shane or Shine." . . . Comment of a baseball fan watching Joe E. Brown in his pre-baseball telecast:

"Open your mouth wider, so I can see the whole field." . . . That idea for a conveyor belt system for shuttling people across town in New York is novel, but it might be more fun to provide the subway passengers with roller skates. . . . At that General Electricity lunch served at the stockholders party the other day, Elmer Twitchell insists he was serving a "lamp" (That's lamp not lamb,

Mr. Composer) sandwich. . . .

Edmund M. Flaherty flew from France to Chicago the other day to testify in the anti-trust suit against du Pont. . . . Flaherty, working as a young chemist in a small Jersey unit of the duPonts, discovered Duco, which revolutionized automobile painting. . . .

He was working on a new type of movie film and had "bad luck"

with the "emulsion," but accidentally discovered the long sought auto "laquer."

What a misuse of the word

"exchange!"

Robert S. Allen Reports

Armed Forces Day Will Be Harmonious Affair May 16

Washington—This year's Armed Forces Day (May 16) will be spectacularly harmonious

among the three military services — at the express order of President Eisenhower.

He has sternly

banned the inter-

service sniping and pot-

shooting that frequently occurs on this national occasion.

The three services will be on their very best behavior. Publicly, they will be required to speak and act like real good friends—regardless of how they feel about one another privately.

This enforced amity will be a new, and probably trying, experience for certain elements within the services—but one that is long overdue.

In the past, the Army and Navy had their own Day and used it to the utmost to ag-grandize themselves, sometimes in a provocative manner. This inter-service feuding did not vanish when former Defense Secretary Louis Johnson abolished the individual Days and instituted a combined one to cover the legally unified forces.

President Eisenhower, who as

Chief of Staff of the Army was in the forefront of the drive to unite the services, is determined to eradicate all bickering among them. His blunt order for a peaceful Armed Forces Day is part of that effort.

Another phase is his plan to readjust the structure of the top

Pentagon command in order to broaden and strengthen the authority of the civilian officials.

Not only have the services been ordered to mind their manners and talk, but they have also been given explicit instructions on what to say and how to say it.

A "Speaker's Guide," bearing

the seal of Defense Secretary

Charles Wilson, has been sent to every Army, Navy, Air and Marine commander in the U. S. and abroad. This booklet lays down the law on any speeches they make.

It limits them, for example, to one short sentence on the hotly controversial question of military funds. This bottled comment is as follows:

"Future military expenditures are under review."

Similarly, speakers are directed to stress the build-up of the South Korean army. For that purpose they can state, "This

ROK army has grown from a nucleus of hardly more than 25-

000 to a formidable force numbering about 500,000, which is holding the greater portion of the fighting front."

Above all, it is emphasized that speakers must shun anything savoring of inter-service scrapping. They are firmly admonished:

"This guide should be the basis for all speeches. . . . It is designed to furnish Armed Forces Day

speakers with abundance of clear material and policy guidance statements. . . . It presents the broad policies of the Department of Defense, its aims and intentions, and concrete facts about the services."

Note: President Eisenhower has made one definite decision regarding the new Joint Chiefs of Staff he will name soon. Its chairman will be a Navy man.

His successor to General Omar

Bradley will be Admiral William F. Friedman, Chief of Naval Operations. The new head of the

JCS will be an Admiral who has not yet been decided on.

In and out—Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson is back with his old corporation law firm

but with one marked personal difference. His famous mustache is almost white, apparently bleached out by the tropical sun

during his two-month vacation in the windward Islands. . . . Interior Secretary McKay will call his Democratic predecessor, Oscar Chapman, as a friendly

witness if the Senate investigates

the angry charges of Marion

Clawson, ousted director of the Bureau of Land Management.

Chapman, as Interior Secretary, clashed several times with Clawson and once went over his head and issued an order putting 19-

000,000 acres of federal land in Nevada under grazing restrictions. Clawson had balked at doing that with the result that a small group of cattlemen grazed their herds without charge. A significant backstage highlight in the Clawson controversy is that his dismissal is a blow to Senator

Pat McCarran (D., Nev.). He put

Clawson, a relative, in the Land job and was powerful enough to keep him there during the Truman regime despite the rows with Chapman.

Obscenity Ban Protested By Nudist Papers

New York (AP) — Is a nude on the rocks any nuder than Marilyn Monroe on a red plush robe?

Attorney O. John Rogge doesn't think so, but the jury to whom he put it squarely yesterday in state Supreme Court deadlocked on that question.

The famed Monroe calendar nude was waved in front of the jury of 10 men and two women to compare for alleged obscenity with pictures in nudist cult magazines.

"This calendar is sold all over town," said Rogge, while courtroom spectators swung their heads back and forth like tennis fans.

"It is widely circulated and is not regarded as obscene.

"The only difference between this picture and a magazine showing a nudist is that the nudist is sitting on a rock and Marilyn Monroe is sitting on a red plush robe."

Rogge was defense attorney for two nudist magazines, "Sunshine and Health," and "Sun," which were ruled off newsstands by City License Commissioner Edward T. McCaffrey. He said they might

Visiting Educators Evaluate College Training Programs

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College is host to six educators from the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education as a fact-finding group for the association.

The factor-finders arrived at the college Sunday and will complete their work today.

Association periodically studies member colleges to evaluate teacher training programs, as a guarantee that accreditation actually represents a high standard of teacher education.

Members of the committee inquire into the resources of the college, generally—its financing, its library facilities and the faculty.

They interview the administration, faculty, and students to determine whether harmonious and co-operative relationships exist among different groups.

Chief concern is quality of college classroom instruction and supervision of the student teaching.

Members of the evaluation committee are:

Donald M. Tower, president, State Teachers College, Brockport, N. Y., chairman; Ellis F. White, president, State Teachers College, Fitchburg, Mass.; William T. Tracey, director of training schools, State Teachers College, Fitchburg, Mass.; A. Huntley Parker, assistant professor of Health and Physical Education, State Teachers College, Brockport, N. Making Big News in Performance and Price!

The New Packard CLIPPER

There hasn't been so much interest in a medium-priced car in years

FIVE months ago Packard announced the new CLIPPER line.

Five months . . . yet wherever you go today . . . in hotels, in restaurants, on trains, at parties, in meetings . . . wherever people gather, you hear them say: "That new Packard CLIPPER is the buy of the year!"

How come?

Well, first there's Packard engineering, traditionally fine, historically dependable. It's largely responsible. Packard, remember, is the oldest maker of fine cars in America.

Second, Packard's manufacturing position is unique. Packard alone with 54 years' experience in fine-car building combines craftsmanship of the highest character and modern mass production techniques that result in greater dollar for dollar values throughout the car.

And in addition to Packard's own exclusive manufacturing pluses, the new CLIPPER is a thrilling car to drive. And what thrill is more important to a man who really loves a car!

There's the Packard engine, famous since the Year One in automotive history. This walloping big powerhouse with a reasonable appetite can purr like a kitten and pull like an elephant.

There's the Packard ride! Smooth, luxurious . . . it will make you want to load 'er up and head for the wide open spaces.

There's Packard's contour styling that is setting the new trend in automotive design.

There's everything you want your family car to have today. In all, around 70 big-car features!

See! Compare! Drive!

In fact, if you'll go to one of the CLIPPER dealers listed below and check the big-car features of this new car, we feel that you'll more and more kitchens are getting that clean electric look... that fresh, gleaming appearance that kitchens keep when the cooking is done the flameless, electric way!

Pictured above are just four of your Central Eastern Pennsylvania neighbors who can tell you how constant, controlled electric heat goes directly into your pots and pans... how none seeps around the edges to overheat you and your kitchen. And how there's no soot or smudge to dull your walls or coat your drapes or blinds.

Yes... women who know, cook electrically... they know that no old-fashioned method matches electric cooking for cleanliness, for efficiency, for all-around superiority. Switch now... see your electric range retailer today!

PENNSYLVANIA POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

Co. Fed. Of Woman's Clubs Spring Meeting At Buck Hill

Mrs. Samuel J. McCartney, of Narberth, first vice president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs, will be one of the speakers at the meeting of the Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs to be held on Friday, May 8, at the Inn at Buck Hill Falls.

The Barrett Woman's Club will serve as hostess to the five federated clubs in the federation, and other state officials will be among the speakers at the all-day meeting.

Mrs. McCartney will be the luncheon speaker, and reservations should be made through the individual club presidents or with Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas of Canadensis well in advance of the meeting.

As general chairman of the convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs in 1948 and 1949, and chairman of program of the state federation for 1950-52, Mrs. McCartney is familiar with many phases of club work.

She is also a member of the Recreation Board of Narberth, of the board of directors of Narberth Community Library, member and secretary of the board of directors of the Narberth School District and on the board of managers of the Main Line YMCA.

Mrs. Samuel J. McCartney

County GOP Starring In District Conf.

Monroe County will have a prominent share in the conference of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women's north-eastern district to be held on May 12, at Honesdale. It is to be a membership conference with Mrs. J. Russell Custard, district membership chairman, in charge of plans for the conference to be held at the Hotel Allen.

Speaker for the noon luncheon will be B. K. Williams, chairman of the Monroe County Republican Committee, a member of the State Game Commission, and president of the Waco Co., manufacturer of industrial detergent.

Mrs. R. W. Dickson, of Butler, state president of the Pennsylvania Federation; and Mrs. Meade Detweiler Jr., state membership chairman, will also speak at the meeting.

Special guests will be Monroe County's Mr. and Miss Republican of 1953, David Lindstedt Jr. and Charlotte Toewe, who will tell the members of their methods of campaigning to win this year's election.

Tickets for the luncheon and transportation arrangements may be made with Mrs. Custard, Mrs. Paul Lloyd, Mrs. Olaf Petersen of the Stroudsburg, Mrs. George Humphrey and Mrs. David Bingham, Mount Pocono; or Mrs. Sue C. Price or Mrs. Viola Nauman, Cresco. Reservations must be made by May 5.

All Republican women are invited to attend the conference, which will have as its theme "Women and Politics."

Besides Monroe, counties to be represented will include Bradford, Carbon, Columbia, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Pike, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming.

Linda Haigh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haigh, South Eighth St., Stroudsburg, celebrated her tenth birthday with a party on Saturday at their summer home at Meadow Lake.

Mothers Day Early At Wesley Chapel

Bartonsville — Wesley Chapel WSCS met Thursday night, April 23 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Ella Mae Lessig to plan its Mother's Day program, which will be presented Sunday night, May 3, at 8 p.m. at Wesley Methodist Church.

This advanced dating will avoid conflict with the Mother's Day Tannersville Methodist Charge combined vespers scheduled for Sunday night, May 10, in the Tannersville Methodist Church.

WSCS spokesman, Mrs. Clyde White, has announced that although the menfolks are invited, the services are entirely in charge of the women. Special tribute will be paid to all mothers present.

Mrs. James Marsh, of Stroudsburg, will do a 4-part monologue on "Mary, The Mother of Jesus"; including the Annunciation, The Nativity, when Jesus was 12 years old and after the Resurrection. Interlude music will be sung by Ann Louise Frailey. Mrs. Clyde White, church organist will provide appropriate music.

Election of officers has been postponed until the May 21 meeting, which will be a pot luck supper in Wesley Chapel Hall. Interested women of the community are invited to attend.

"Lo I am with you always" was the theme for a discussion in which everyone participated. This led to discussion of special articles from the current "Christian Advocate," Methodist periodical.

The fragrance of daffodils vied with that of the coffee chiffer pie served with steaming coffee by hostess Mrs. Lessig to: Mrs. Thomas Miller, Mrs. Wilson Lee, Mrs. Stanley Heller, Mrs. Clarence Walters, Mrs. John Teads, Mrs. Thiel Feller, Mrs. Clyde White.

Pocono Grange Bake Sale Plans

Tannersville — Pocono Grange 1415 met on Friday night, April 24, with a good turnout of members. Mrs. Sallie Henry, Henryville, and Mrs. Irene Hartman, Mt. Pocono, were reported on the sick list. Elsie Beseker, lecturer, had arranged the program.

The organization is planning a bake sale on Saturday, May 2, to be held at Metzgar's NuWay Market, starting at 11 a.m. They will include the cinnamon buns and cream puffs for which Mrs. Howell and Mrs. Dalley, respectively, are noted. Also included will be pies, cakes and home-made bread.

A visitation of another Grange with baked goods, will take place at the local Grange late in May, date to be announced. Each Grange is raising funds for furniture to be placed in the new headquarters recently purchased in Harrisburg and Grange 1415 will announce definite plans in this connection at an early date.

A quilt, made by various members, which has been sold, was displayed by Mrs. Emma Frailey. Report on the Pomona meeting was heard and members noted a very satisfactory sum had been realized from the supper served at that affair.

Roseto Scene Of Zorzetto-Falcone Rites

Bangor — Miss Roselle J. Falcone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Falcone of 135 North Fifth St., Bangor, and Robert J. Zorzetto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Zorzetto of 425 East Main St., Pen Argyl, were married on Sunday, April 26, at 11 a.m. at Mt. Carmel Church, Roseto.

Rev. John C. Walsh, CM, performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of rose point lace over accordion pleated net skirt and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with a white orchid in the center. Her long veil fell from a crown of orange blossoms and seed pearls.

Her sister, Mrs. Carmella Falcone, was her maid of honor and wore a dress of lace and net in maize with a matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Rose Marie Falcone, a cousin of the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Falcone was bridesmaid. She wore aqua lace and net and her bouquet was also of red roses.

Joseph Favere, of Pen Argyl was best man.

The church was decorated with bouquets of gladiolas and snapdragons, with Mrs. Thomas Ronco as organist and Salvatore Drago as soloist.

A reception was held at the Blue Valley Farm Building.

After a wedding trip to Canada Mr. and Mrs. Zorzetto attended Pen Argyl High School and served in the Air Force for four years. He is employed by Connins and Maxwell, contractors.

Charter Union Members Are Honored At Pocketbook Workers 20th Anniversary

Celebrating 20 years of successful working together, the Pocketbook Workers Union, Local No. 6, Stroudsburg, held its 20th anniversary banquet on Saturday at the Elks Club with 125 employees and members of the management present for the occasion.

Ten charter members, including two of the original officers of the union, were presented with gifts. Harry Oloff, original vice president of the union, and Charles Lugg, a member of the original board, were honored as well as Walter Marvin, Mrs. Ethel Marvin, Mrs. Carrie Morris, Albert Setzer, Paul Christman, Miss Sarah Mickey, Miss Reba Schrader and Al Hay. There are four other charter members of the union but they were not present for the banquet.

The dinner itself opened with an invocation given by Miss Schrader. Speeches were given by the business representative Harry Grosskof, of Philadelphia, two union representatives of New York City; Robert Sommer, president of Vassar Import Bag Co.; Henry Reader, superintendent, and other prominent guests.

"Belle and Beaux," the mixed chorus from East Stroudsburg High School, entertained after dinner, and there was both round and square dancing to the music of Arch Possinger's orchestra. A vote of thanks was given to the committee in charge, as well as boutonniere for the men and gardenia corsages for the women. The committee included Harry Oloff, chairman; Miss Josephine Cracolei, Albert Setzer, Miss Reba Schrader, Paul Christman, Al Bowman, Minnie Deeks and C. Fritz.

Wyckoff's

Wyckoff
SHOPPER

Everyone should have a hobby . . . whether it's raising tropical fish that cost $50 a pair, or collecting match books that are free on every restaurant table. It adds zest to living. Just the other day over the air, I told about a man who collects floors—parquet, marble, and wide plank, from the homes of the notorious. In fact, he even makes a business of this. He buys floors from one famous estate, for instance, and sells them to wealthy people for their own mansions.

My hobby is nothing as pretentious as that . . . but it's one that gives great satisfaction, costs little, and never becomes dull. I collect pictures of the Madonna, in all sizes, styles and — surprisingly — many colors, some far too vivid for my taste, or for such a subject. In the past several years, at least four hundred have come my way, and rarely are there two alike.

When Edna Brockman set forth for Europe recently, she promised to bring back any reproductions seen in the museums. And she was as good as her word. One of her Madonnas is in lovely, soft shades of pink and gray-blue, and it was in our gift department that Marion Leedom found the perfect frame for it. This is gilt enameled in delicate blue, with the print deeply recessed behind glass. As beautiful as the picture was before, it is even lovelier now. The blue enamel emphasizes the blue in the Madonna's robe, and the recessed effect creates the illusion that the figures are painted upon porcelain.

For every picture there's one particular frame . . . the "gliding of the lily," that adds immensely to the beauty and value of the print. That is how it is with my collection . . . and that is how it is with the snapshots, pictures, and paintings that are dear to you.

Here in Wyckoff's we have an amazing number of frames . . . tiny gilt compacts that spring open to the touch, revealing four purse-size family pictures; large gilt or silver, easel type, for portraits; ornate wooden imports from Italy, adaptable to many needs; and plain black wood, always in good taste and an inexpensive way to preserve photographic treasures.

As though these were not enough, we have our own picture framing department, with mouldings of all colors, styles, and types . . . some very plain, some elaborately designed . . . waiting to be "custom tailored" by an expert to fit your needs. Why not ask Walter Logan about his services? We're sure you'll be in a happier frame of mind about your souvenirs if you frame them . . . A picture will remain timeless — forever young . . . unless allowed to discolor from dirt, or wrinkle from mistreatment. We suggest that you "frame-proof" your pictures this spring — at Wyckoff's, of course!

ROBERT LOGAN, Stroudsburg artist, puts finishing touches to portrait of Dr. Claus G. Jordan, chief surgeon who recently marked 20 years at Monroe County General Hospital. The portrait, gift from members of the hospital board of directors, was unveiled last night.

Sciota Known As Fennersville Prior To 1867

Sciota—This village, formerly called Fennersville, changed its name to Sciota in 1867 for a practical reason, Mrs. Little Mackles and William Lesh recalled here this week.

Because of the similarity in names of Tannersville and Fennersville, it was felt the name change was needed to halt the every-day mix-up in mail which often necessitated horse-drawn mail coaches to delay delivery several days.

And so Fennersville was eliminated and Sciota born.

Hospital Board Presents Portrait To Dr. Jordan

In recognition of 20 years service to Monroe County citizenry and to the General Hospital, Dr. Claus G. Jordan was honored last night by the presentation of a portrait painted by Robert Logan, Stroudsburg artist.

Frank S. LaBar, chairman of the hospital board of directors, unveiled the 30 by 36 inch painting during a board meeting and announced it was a gift from members of the governing body. The portrait will hang in the directors' room at the hospital.

Dr. Jordan, a native of Cologne, Germany, came to this country at the age of 17. He received his undergraduate and medical education at the University of Pennsylvania and interned in the University of Pennsylvania Hospital.

After three years of residency under Dr. George P. Muller, he came to Monroe County and has been active in all phases of organization at the General Hospital.

Dr. Jordan is a diplomat of the Board of Surgery and fellow of the American College of Surgeons. He is married to Dr. Charlotte Backus Jordan. The couple reside at 707 Thomas St. and are the parents of three daughters and a son.

County Plans Vote Machine Demonstration

Voting machines will go on display at two places next Monday and Tuesday for demonstration purposes.

Scene of the demonstrations will be at the firehouse in Pocono Pines, which is the polling place for Eastern Tobyhanna district; and at the Community House, Blakeslee, polling place for Western Tobyhanna district.

Hours will be 1 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m. on each of the days.

Instructions on use of the machines will be given by volunteers from the ladies auxiliary of the Wilson-Fisher Post, American Legion.

Chief Clerk Harry Taylor said instruction periods and demonstrations of the voting machines would be set up for each polling place in the county.

The date will be announced later, Taylor said, but would be sometime between May 9 and the primaries, which fall on May 19. There will be at least one instructor available to answer all questions about the machines and their use, he added.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Pocono Manor Inn officially launched its golf season and in a manner that would make the average golf student's eyes pop like a wind filled bag crushed between two husky hands. Art Wall, the youthful slammer from Honesdale, who carried the Pocono Manor name over the winter golf trail and who will carry the same name on the summer tour, teamed up with "Bud" Brown to battle Jack Cottle and Ted Beadle, in a match that is still the talk on and around the Pocono Manor course.

Wall and Brown teamed to score a three and two victory over Cottle and Beadle. Cottle is the very popular head pro at Pocono Manor, a post he has held for many years, while Beadle serves in a similar capacity at Buck Hill Falls. Brown is only one of a host of outstanding Cottle proteges and one of the standout amateur golfers in the Pocono Manor cottage colony. Although Wall played three days on the local course, most of the action was packed into Saturday's match.

The Honesdale native, who is growing into one of the top flight touring pros in the nation, shot a cool 67, including a pair of eagles and some of the best shots witnessed on the 18-hole layout in a number of years. Art drove the par-four, 300-yard number five on two rounds and was putting for eagles almost as often as pars. Wall used a drive and a chip shot to reach the green on the 475-yard second hole, where he again missed an eagle. Wall, who yesterday flew to Mexico for his next tournament, hit a 235-yard number two iron on the 10th hole and reached the green.

Art had trouble on the 11th hole, a stretch of golfing fairway and bordering rough that can be very troublesome, and wound up with a six on the par four layout. But Wall really found the touch on the next three holes, banging home two eagles and a par. The eagles came on a pair of par fives, the 12th, 450 yards, and the 14th, 485 yards. The par was on the par-three 202-yard 13th hole. Wall was one of 40 invited to the tournament in Mexico and it's no wonder, with golf of last Saturday's calibre featuring his play of late.

Cottle, who is no longer an active pro during the winter months, arrived at Pocono Manor on Friday afternoon and got right into the swing of things on Saturday with a 71, two strokes below par figures. Jack, regarded by many as the finest instructing pro in the business, played his usual smooth game and was in the thick of the battle all the way. Beadle, Buck Hill's outstanding pro, matched even par figures with a 73. Brown came in with a 76.

Best ball for the foursome was listed as 60, with the winning twosome having a best ball of 65 over the 6,350-yard rolling layout. Wall just missed eligibility in the recent Masters Tournament by less than one full stroke. If Wall had skipped one of the recent tournaments, in which he was collared by one bad round, he would have been eligible for Masters play. The Masters is just what the name indicates—for experts only. According to some of those who know, Wall will be included in the Masters field next year.

Speaking of golf brings to mind the fact that Shawnee Inn opens for the season on Friday and the first golf tournament of the year, the 30th annual Invitation Tournament, gets underway on Thursday, May 7, and ends on Sunday, May 16. Some of the top amateur talent in the United States will be included in the field that is assembled by special invitation of the local resort. Shawnee annually presents the top golf tournaments in the Pocono Mountains.

Perez Makes Bid For Big Time

Brooklyn, N. Y. (AP) — Young Lulu Perez of Brooklyn made a bold bid for the big time last night when he came from far behind to floor "Corky" Gonzales twice and score a unanimous 10-round decision over the sixth-ranked featherweight from Denver at the Eastern Parkway Arena. Perez weighed 126½, Gonzales 129.

It was the 18th straight victory for Perez, who turned 20 Saturday and thus became eligible for his first 10-round bout. The loss snapped a five-fight win streak for Gonzales.

Outclassed through the early going, by the clever, experienced 24-year old westerner, Perez took the play away in the sixth when he staggered his swarthy foe with two successive left hooks to the chin. From then on it was all Perez.

Stroudsburg High Host To Palmerton At Giffels Field

Cavaliers Attempt To Protect Unbeaten Slate At Parkland

Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools return to the baseball wars today, with each a major factor in the pennant races of their respective leagues.

The Mountaineers play host to Palmerton at 4 p.m. in the first game of the season to be played at Gordon Giffels field. The newly resurfaced infield was soft from recent rains yesterday, but is expected to be ready for today's contest.

East Stroudsburg, featuring one win and no defeats in the Lehigh-Northampton League, invades the home domain of Parkland High, also at 4 p.m.

Coach Jerry Stulgaitis, plainly worried over the continued lack of hitting ability by his defending title holder, has nominated Ray Hogrelius to do the pitching against Palmerton, with Dick Shuster in reserve.

The remainder of the lineup will be the same as the one that has split two league outings and dropped a 3-0 decision to Pen Argyl. The Mountaineers have failed to score a run in the last 14 innings.

Stroudsburg also plays at Giffels field on Friday, with Whitehall supplying the opposition at that time.

East Stroudsburg, winner of both officials' outings to date, will depend on Joe Antonucci to pitch his way to a second straight league victory, according to an announcement made last night by Coach Jack Kist. One of the Eastburg decisions was a 13-10 non-league verdict over Port Jervis, N. Y.

Antonucci stopped Heilertown on two hits last Friday, as the Cavaliers came up with a 6-0 victory. Carl Smith will again open the game behind the plate, with John "Juice" Arnold on first base; Bob "Red" Kupiszewski, second base; Jack Sommers, shortstop; Harold White, third base; Dick Transue, left field; Dick Merring, center field, and George Little, right field.

The Cavaliers are scheduled to enjoy an open date on Friday.

Williams Hit For Second Time

U. S. First Marine Air Wing, Korea, Tuesday, (AP)—Captain Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger, now flying a jet for the Marines, yesterday brought his fighter-bomber home safely after it had been hit by Red anti-aircraft fire.

Minor Damage
The Marines said Williams' plane sustained minor damage when flak hit the left wing tip tank. Williams was unhurt.

Large Turnout At Practice

East Stroudsburg's Little League had 125 boys at its initial practice session last night. Boys who haven't registered but who would like to play in the league this summer, may do so by registering at the official Little League field today, at 6:30 p.m.

Two Fields
Practice sessions are being held at the Little League field and on the baseball diamond located just outside of Memorial Stadium.

Jones To Speak At Banquet

Pocono Pines—Robert "Pop" Jones, former University of Scranton athletic great and later football coach at the same school, will be the featured speaker at the fourth annual Tobyhanna Township High School Athletic Banquet, here in the school gymnasium on Tuesday, May 5.

The banquet is scheduled to get under way at 6:30 p. m.

Well Known
Jones, who served with the Red Cross during World War II, is well known for his interest in growing youngsters, especially athletes.

Both the TTHS basketball and baseball teams will be honored at the affair.

DeMarco Wins Decision

Montreal (AP)—Paddy DeMarco of Brooklyn, a leading lightweight contender, last night won a unanimous 10-round decision over Armand Savoie of Montreal, Canadian lightweight champion. DeMarco weighed 138, Savoie 137.

Joe Shea

Shea To Prep For Entry Into West Point

Joe Shea, savage tackling, sure blocking right tackle for East Stroudsburg High school's football team for the past three years, took a giant stride toward entrance into the United States Military Academy at West Point yesterday, when he was ordered to begin study at a prep school next week. Shea will take his final exams at East Stroudsburg High this week and leave for Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., on Sunday. Joe will spend the next five weeks studying mathematics and English at Braden Prep, a preparatory school for both the United States Military and Naval Academy.

Cornwall is located just five miles from West Point. Shea will take the five-week course in preparation for entrance exams into West Point.

Joe, who was one of the major reasons East Stroudsburg High enjoyed its most successful football season in history last year, eight wins, one loss, is the son of Mrs. Verna Shea, 159 Analomink St. Much of the negotiations have been handled by Carny Lasly and Paul Amen, line coaches for the Army football team. Amen is also baseball coach at West Point.

Doubt Present Despite Signings

San Francisco, (AP)—Managers for Paddy Young and Carl "Bobo" Olson yesterday signed their boxes for a June meeting, but a match for the American middleweight title was as far away as ever—separated by the width of the country in a dispute over money terms.

Announcements
Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, announced in New York that Harry Stikevers signed Young for a fight with Olson June 19 in Madison Square Garden.

At the same time in San Francisco, Sid Flaherty signed Olson with Promoter William P. Kyrne for the same fight June 6 in San Francisco's Cow Palace.

TTHS Downs Coolbaugh On Shultz's Single

Pocono Pines—George Shultz, last of three center fielders for Tobyhanna Township High singled in the bottom of the seventh inning with the bases full to give TTHS a 3-2 victory over Coolbaugh, here on the winning aggregation's home field.

It was the first outing of the present campaign for both clubs. TTHS, defending champion in the Monroe County Baseball League, found Coolbaugh a tough foe to vanquish here on the cold and windswept field at TTHS.

Both teams opened with single runs in the first inning and the host team went ahead with a singleton in the bottom of the second.

Tie Score

Coolbaugh reached Murin Mays for the tying run in the top of the fourth, while George Kronick dealt out four straight scoreless frames to the host aggregation.

Mays opened the home half of the seventh and final inning with a single and raced to third on a double by Jim "Cocky" Wilson. Jim Judge drew a walk to fill the sacks with one out. Jack Waltz went down on strikes for the second out, but Shultz singled to plate the winning margin.

Mays struck out 18 batters and walked four, while Kronick fanned 16 hitters and gave up six free tickets to first base.

Nixon Holds Edge Over Ike In Golf

Sea Island, Ga. (AP)—If Vice President Richard Nixon applies himself to it, he'll be a better golfer than President Eisenhower, says the professional who has given both lessons.

Quote
"When Ike was here, he was definitely in the dub class and that was only five or six years ago," "Cap" W. H. Lewis, professional at the golf course here, recalled yesterday.

Final Arrangements Complete For First Round Of Games In Blue Mountain Diamond Circuit

Martins Creek—Final arrangements for the opening of the Blue Mountain Baseball League were completed last night during a business meeting, held here at the Italian-American Club.

All teams in the circuit were represented at the gathering with the exception of Roseto A.A. Bill Frear, manager of Pocono A.C., represented his club at the gathering.

Contracts
Player contracts must be received by league officials on or before Tuesday, May 5.

All postponed games must be rescheduled within 10 days. A 24-hour grace was given for box scores.

Teams in the circuit ready to pull up the curtain are Pocono A.C., Tatamy, Portland, Martins Creek, Roseto A.A. and Johnsonville.

Several localities were making special plans for opening day.

The next meeting of the Blue Mountain League will be held at the Tatamy Fire House on Monday, May 25, at 7:30 p.m.

Barrett Requests Entry Into Little Bigger Baseball Loop

Barrett made application for membership in the Little Bigger Baseball League of the Stroudsburgs last night, and the circuit for boys 13 to 16 years of age took on a Monroe County appearance, although no official action was taken along this line. The meeting held at the Monroe County YMCA.

Bangor At Home With Copley Today

Bangor—Bangor High, fresh from a pair of pre-season baseball victories, will play its first game in the Lehigh-Northampton League this season today, when the Slayers tangle with Copley, here at Memorial Park.

The game is scheduled to get underway at 4 p.m.

Pitcher
Coach Dave Thomas is expected to send Bob Egbert, reliable right-handed pitcher, against the highly regarded Copley contingent.

The remainder of the Bangor lineup will be the same as the one that captured the two pre-season verdicts, right here on this same field.

TV Grid Fans To See More Games

Kansas City (AP)—Television football fans will get to see a greater number of games—but no more than one a week—under the plan of continued controls proposed yesterday by the TV Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Mail Vote
The program, which now goes to the association for approval through a mail vote, calls for 13 dates—10 or 11 full games involving topflight teams.

Those attending the meeting felt that the admission of Barrett Township was a desirable thing, but the group decided to take the application under advisement until the problems of traveling can be studied further.

A meeting for discussion of this problem has been scheduled for Friday, at 7:30 p. m., at the YMCA.

Response
Over 50 boys have responded to the first call for candidates. Those players who saw action last year, and are still within the range of the age limits, are urged to contact George Metropoulos, player agent, as soon as possible.

The umpiring staff will include Jack Bergman, Harley Nevil, Tom Somers and Robroy Kitchen. All umpires will be paid this season. Any other men wishing to umpire may make application through any team manager or Eugene Martin, president of the league.

Any player wishing to enter the league this year must present two certified copies of records of birth. League officials request that all applicants obtain these records as soon as possible.

Elwood Hintze, vice president of the league, was in charge of last night's meeting, due to the absence of Martin, circuit president. Others in attendance were Walter McClelland, secretary; John Schoonover, Line Material; Warren "Mag" Loney, Monroe Silk; Bill Reaser, Worthington Mower; Jack Phillips and Elmer "Lem" Bopser, International Boiler Works.

ESSTC Student Joins Body Of Umpires

Pen Argyl—Roland Hess, a student at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, was one of three new members admitted to the Blue Mountain Umpires Association last night, during a meeting held here at the Republican Club.

Hess is also manager of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College baseball team.

In addition to Hess, new members admitted to the organization last night were Dan Groff, Easton, and Anthony Liberto, Bath.

Three Leagues
Jim Schlegel, president of the organization, informed all umpires present that the association would handle games in the Blue Mountain League, Pocono Mountains League and Northampton American Legion during the coming summer months.

Walter Stem, a resident of East Stroudsburg and representative of the Pocono Mountains League in the Blue Mountain Umpires Association, conducted a general review of rules to complete the meeting.

Laffango To Miss Kentucky Derby

New York (AP)—Trio Stable's Laffango, still showing signs of soreness in his legs, will be rested and then shipped to Garden State Park instead of going to Louisville for the Kentucky Derby, trainer Merritt Buxton said yesterday.

Foot Injury
The colt, regarded as one of the east's leading Derby hopes, missed the Wood Memorial Saturday because of a recurrence of a foot injury.

Stroudsburg Beagles Place In Trial

Poconmount Little Dan, owned by Marvin Hassler, 620 Wize Ave., Stroudsburg, won reserve hound honors in the 13-inch class of the final All Age AKC Sanctioned Spring Field Trial last weekend, at Maple-in-the Pines, home grounds of the Monroe Beagle Club.

First place in the 13-inch class went to Panul's Duchess, belonging to Wilbur Guth, Macungie, while Meyer's Melodious Lou, the property of Elwood Meyers, Easton, came home in second place.

Smickley's Jump, owned by Bertram Smickley, Wind Gap, finished third and New's Nifty, belonging to Cleopas Newton, Locust Gap, was fourth.

15 Inches

Lou's Valley Boy, belonging to Dr. John Nesley, Lansford, was first in the 15-inch class and Black's Sallie, the property of George Black, Summit Hill, was second. S. K. Feather Duster, owned by G. L. Morehouse, Selkirk, N. Y., came home in third place, while Dark Water Billy, owned by Lester Marsh, Marshall's Creek, was fourth and Sittler's Sparky, property of James Sittler, Tamaqua, finished with reserve honors.

Ervin Stem, Easton, and Bob Seibler, Pottstown, were judges for both events.

Condition In Favor Of Phils

Philadelphia Phillies have raced to their finest National League season start in many a year with nine victories out of 11 games played and an eight game winning streak.

Single Word

Why? Well, Steve O'Neill, the Phillies' manager, doesn't actually say it in a single word, but you could sum it up in one: Condition.

To Steven, that's why the Phils have racked up the Brooklyn Dodgers three in a row and the Pittsburgh Pirates four times after edging the New York Giants one week ago to start the string.

Veteran Outfielders Pace Major Leagues In Batting At End Of First Two Weeks Of Play

New York (AP)—Johnny Wyrostek of the Philadelphia Phillies and the New York Yankees' Gene Woodling, a pair of veteran left-hand hitting outfielders, lead the major leagues in batting with the 1953 season two weeks old.

Wyrostek, who batted .265 last season, is setting a record .500 pace while hitting safely in 10 straight games and compiling 17 hits in 34 at bats. Records include Sunday's games.

Woodling, a .309 hitter in 1952, tops the American League with .472 on 17 safeties in 36 trips. Gene had his best day of the year last Thursday when he went four-for-four against the Boston Red Sox.

Second

The Phillies' Connie Ryan, another early season phenom, is second in the National League at .390. Ryan, an 11-year man, owes much of his robust mark to his success against Pittsburgh. He had six-for-six off the Pirates' pitching on April 16 and five-for-five in the first game against the Bucs last Sunday.

Eddie Mathews of the Milwaukee Braves is third with a .385 mark followed by "Red" Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals at .382 and Pittsburgh's Dick Cole with a .379 slate. Mathews also leads in home runs with six.

Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson, the National League's number one hitter in 1949, and Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn are tied for sixth at .378. Behind them come rookie Bill Bruton of Milwaukee, .368, Dee Fondy, Chicago, .360 and Earl Torgeson, Philadelphia and Roy Campanella, Brooklyn, with .357 each. Campanella also has driven in the most runs, 18.

Philley

Runner-up to Woodling in the American League is Dave Philley of the Philadelphia Athletics. Philley has 20 hits in 47 at bats for a .426 batting mark.

George Kell, Boston Red Sox, is in third place with .395, a shade ahead of Cleveland's Al Rosen in fourth. The Indians' third baseman is batting .393.

Pete Suder of Philadelphia is fifth with .366 followed by Wayne Terwilliger, Washington, .342.

Boston's Dick Gernert, who has accounted for all of his team's home runs, is the American League leader in that department with four. Walt Dropo, Detroit's big first sacker, has the most runs-batted-in, 11.

Bob Lemon, Cleveland right-hander and Alex Keidner, Philadelphia lefty, head the American League pitchers. Southpaw Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies, is on top in the National. Each has won three games and lost none.

Frick Issues Warning To Gambling Players

New York (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, taking official cognizance of clubhouse games for high stakes, issued a stern warning to all 16 major league clubs yesterday against gambling and association with gamblers.

Frick's warning was hailed by club officials and managers who promised that every possible step would be taken to comply with his edict. All insisted, however, that no gambling took place on their clubs.

Charge

In a bulletin Frick ordered posted in all clubhouses for all officials and players to see, the commissioner called attention to the "evil of permitting card games among your players where the stakes are high." He said he had information that some players were losing more money than they can afford.
